Napoleon's Generosity.

Count de P.—had been raised by Bonaparte, to honors and dignities, but for some unaccountable reason he betrayed the confidence which his patron had reposed in him. When Bonaparte became cognizant of the man's treachery, he ordered him to be arrested. He was to have been tried the following day and in all probability he would have been condemned, as his guilt was fully established. In the meantime Count de P.—solicited and obtained an audience of the emperor.

"I am very sorry for your sake, madame," he said, "that your husband should be mixed up in an affair which places his ingratitude in so glaring a light."

"Perhaps he is not so guilty as your ladyship supposes," said the countess. "Do you know your husband's signature?" inquired the emperor, taking a letter out of his pocket and handing it to her.

Mme. de P.—rapidly perused the letter, recognized the handwriting and fell into a swoon. When she came around, Bonaparte put the letter into her hands, saying: "Take it. This is the only legal evidence that exists against your husband. There is a lighted fire behind you."

The countess quickly snatched up the important document and threw it into the flames. P.—'s life was saved, but as for his honor, not all the influence of a generous emperor could avail to restore it.—Chicago Daily News.

Glad to See Him.

New members of congress feel shy and lone one. To be thrust suddenly in among almost 400 members, many of whom they have never seen, and only a few of whom they have ever heard of, is rather a trying experience. To make a speech under these conditions takes some courage. James Keen, ex-member of congress from Pennsylvania, recently told of his experience in going into congress for the first time. He came down from Pennsylvania in a green and blue suit, in his coat for several days, and in that time managed to pick up a formal speaking acquaintance with one or two of his neighbors. One day he was sitting in his seat, disconsolate, listening to the reading of some tiresome bill, when the member who sat next to him, who had served four years, came in like a breeze and said cheerily: "Hello, Jim."

Mr. Keen wheeled in his chair and said eagerly: "Say that again, will you, old man? It sounds like home."

"Well, Jim, let's go down to Murrayville and talk about home," The reference to Murrayville is unimpeachable to the outsider, but Mr. Keen had learned by that time that the name referred to the house restaurant, where oysters and the cap that cheers were to be had, and they wended their way down stairs.—New York Tribune.

HOOF BEATS.

In these days of war plays and stage realism the sound of hoof beats is worked into every nearly every melodrama. Very few people know how the effect is produced, and very few, too, could make the noise right even if they had the apparatus. It takes quite a lot of practice to be a good "hoof-beater," as it is called. The necessary outfit consists of a table on which is a long marble slab covered with rubber graduated from an inch thick down to the thinness of a piece of paper. The operator has strapped to each hand half a coconut shell, on the edge of which is fastened a horseshoe. He starts in pounding them on the thick rubber to imitate hoof beats in the distance and gradually works along to the thin part as they are supposed to come nearer, and finally ends up with a clatter on the bare surface as the horse is pulled up just outside the scene. This is considered generally to be the most effective of all the hoof beat machines.—New York Herald.

And Then He Proposed.
There had been a brief interval of silence, and he felt that he ought to say something. "I see that the students of sociology have figured it out," he began, "that education!"

He paused as if in doubt whether he ought to proceed. "Yes," she said encouragingly. "That education is having a bad effect upon matrimony," he continued; "especially the education of women."

"I never did believe in too much education," said she softly. She waited for him to speak, but he said nothing.

"I'm glad I never knew my lessons, anyway," she added. Some men are slow to take a hint, but they are quick to understand when they are hit with an ax.

He saw the point.—Chicago Post.

First Negro Minstrel.

The first man who ever sang a negro song on the stage was an actor named Herbert. He sat in a chair before the curtain. He painted his face with black paint, turned cork being then unknown.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN TO ALL persons that we Eugene H. Hay

It is expected that the largest representative assemblage ever held in the United States for the purpose of framing a declaration of political principles and nominating candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, will convene at St. Louis on the 22d of next July. Two National Conventions will then meet in that city. The cardinal principle of both is financial reform. They agree on the free coinage of silver and the issuance of Government non-interest-bearing legal tender notes instead of Government interest-bearing bonds, which do not add a dollar to the circulating medium of the country.

The People's party National Committee, which met recently at St. Louis, admitted that it is unquestionably true that a large majority of the voters of the nation are aware that the present deplorable condition has been brought upon them by a betrayal of trust on the part of the two old parties, and as it is perfectly clear that if these voters can be brought together and organized that they can and will reverse the present financial policy of the country. The Executive Committee was, therefore, instructed to urge upon all men and organizations desiring financial reform to hold a convention in the same city and at the same time that an honorable effort may be made to unite all friends of financial reform in support of the same candidates for President and Vice President of the United States. General J. B. Weaver, General J. G. Field, Senator Marion Butler, Congressman Bell and others were appointed a committee of conference to carry the resolution into effect, and the result is that the two conventions will meet at St. Louis, July 22d.

The People's party convention will consist of 1,300 delegates and the convention called by the Washington conference will consist of 1,258 delegates. A union of the two on the broad principle of financial reform will make the largest National Convention ever held and with candidates who will command the respect and confidence of all who are opposed to the gold conspirators the result at the polls cannot be doubted.

SENATOR TELLER'S POSITION.

Senator Teller of Colorado has been a straight Republican since 1861 when the war broke out. He was Secretary of the Interior under President Arthur from 1882 to 1885. He has been United States Senator from Colorado since December 4, 1876, with the exception of the three years he served in the Cabinet and he resigned as Senator to accept that position. He now declares on the floor of the United States Senate that the financial policy of the Government should be "with all our support" a gold man for President of the United States or vote for any candidate unless he declares for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. He is tired of straddling and regards bimetalism by international agreement an empty dream.

This is the position which a man who has been a Republican for thirty-five years, who has been honored by the Republicans with a place in the President's Cabinet and who has three times been elected to the United States Senate now occupies. Would that there were many such men as Senator Teller in the Republican party, then silver would be remonetized and prosperity would smile once more upon the people of the United States. He is a consistent advocate of free coinage and will not stultify himself by talking for silver and voting for gold.

A few years ago Nevada Republicans favored Senator Teller for President of the United States; now Nevada Republicans denounce Senator Teller, as they do Senators Jones and Stewart, because those gentlemen will not support the gold and bond party.

THE SILVER BILL.

The Senate substitute for Mr. Reed's Bond bill will probably pass the Senate this week. It is intended to get a vote on the bill to-morrow, but as the gag rule of the House does not prevail in the Senate, if Senators desire to further discuss the bill a vote will not be taken at that time. It is claimed that there is a majority of five in favor of the bill, exclusive of the Utah Senators, both of whom are committed to free coinage.

The bill provides for absolute free coinage of silver, as well gold. This, its advocates assert, will obviate the necessity of issuing interest-bearing bonds, as provided for in the bill passed by the House. It will surprise Mr. Reed's branch of Congress, as it was not intended by that body to trouble itself with the silver question, to have the bill sent to it by the Senate, but the surprise seems to be in store for it, and it will have to ignore it by pigeon-holing it, or show its hands by voting for or against it.

The London Chronicle has been informed that a deputation from the Orange Free State were shown documents at Pretoria proving that it was the intention of the Chartered South African Company to set loose savages to invade the Transvaal and to kill every white man. Provision stations had been arranged all over South Africa, the object being to destroy Pretoria and to present England with the accomplished fact of the conquest.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The prayer of the Senate Chaplain referred to the appearance of another star—Utah—in the constellation of States and invoked the knitting together of the hearts of all the people of the Union for the advancement and glory of our beloved country.

Turpie, in presenting a petition concerning the Turkish massacres, said the Armenians were charged with no revolt, but only with being Christians. The time has come, said the Senator, when there should be an official notification to Turkey and to the Mohammedan Church that there has been a decadence in their power to proselyte with the sword.

We have already sent a message, said the Senator, referring to the concurrent resolution, but it should be followed by a shot which would go crashing through the Grand Seraglio. The Senator urged that it would be a glorious day when the destruction of this Turkish power was brought about. The Senator urged that the Christian world might now be called upon to take up another great crusade in driving back the rule of Mahomedism and spreading the rule of Christianity. Turpie spoke with great earnestness and his remarks attracted much attention.

Allen gave notice of an amendment to the pending Silver Bond bill, depriving the Secretary of the Treasury of the power to issue bonds unless the authority is given by Congress.

Call's resolution for the investigation of the arrest of Eugene V. Debs was taken up. Call demanded immediate action, saying that the laboring interests of the country desired an inquiry. Hill said that ordinarily he had great respect for the laboring people, but that he had never heard that they desired this investigation. If such inquiry was desirable it should be conducted by one of the regular committees. He offered an amendment directing the whole subject to be investigated by the Committee on Judiciary and a report be made if any legislation was necessary.

Call said that the amendment was intended to suppress this inquiry. He spoke vigorously upon the indignities and wrongs against Eugene V. Debs because he ventured to express opinions contrary to those entertained by the court.

The Senator said that this inquiry was vital to the preservation of civil liberty and the inviolability of the personal rights of the individual.

Hill said he would not be put into the attitude of opposing the inquiry. He paid a high tribute to Debs and said that the action which he urged was with the view of securing appropriate legislative action.

Allen, who severely criticized Judge Woods, created a flutter of excitement by asserting that in his opinion the express purpose for referring the resolution to a standing committee was to suppress the inquiry into the "dark caverns" of the Senate. The resolution finally went over to allow Thurston to address the Senate on the Monroe doctrine. He freely criticized the attitude of Senator Wolcott, and supported the stand taken by the President.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.

A Delegation of Ladies Present a Plea for Equal Rights.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—The Senate marble room was completely filled to-day by a delegation of ladies from the National Equal Suffrage Association, who appeared before the Senate Committee on Woman Suffrage to present a plea of recognition at the ballot box. Senators Call and Peffer were the only members of the committee present and they arrived late. The speeches were limited to five minutes. The speakers were presented by Rev. Anna Shaw.

The speakers dwelt upon the right of the female sex to equal participation with men in shaping legislation, and almost all referred to the injustice of taxing women without allowing them to vote. The delegation also visited the Judiciary Committee of the House. Among those who spoke were Mrs. Saunders, the wife of ex-Senator Saunders of Montana, and Mrs. Francis A. Williamson, a Nevada ranch and mine owner of Austin, Nevada.

The New Bonds.

WASHINGTON, January 28.—Some uncertainty having developed in the public mind as to how and when the premium on the new bonds should be paid, it was stated at the Treasury that the premium would be paid in the same proportion as the bonds were paid, viz, 20 per cent. the first payment and 10 per cent. every fifteen days until the payment is completed. From the first to the last payment 120 days will elapse. As each payment is made the accepted bidder for bonds is privileged to receive the proportion of bonds he has paid for.

Married People Elope.

GREENSBORO, Pa., January 28.—An elopement has just been made public at Baden, a mining town east of this place, the principals being Wm. Clawson and Mrs. John Baker. Clawson boarded with the Bakers and the two became infatuated with each other, and the result of which was the two left for parts unknown. Mrs. Baker leaving a husband and four small children. Clawson is also married, but did not leave with his wife.

The Cunard line steamer Catalonia, from Liverpool to Boston, broke her shaft at sea and was towed into the port of St. Michaels in the Azores.

George Krout of Colorado Springs, an express agent, has been arrested on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of $30,000 from Wells, Fargo & Co. several months ago. His father, who recently went to Colorado Springs from Cerro Gordo, Illinois, was arrested on the train as he was leaving Colorado and $4,000 was found sewed in his clothing.

Mayor Sutro of San Francisco, has called a meeting of the Anti-Funding Committee of Fifty at his office to-day. The reason assigned for the hurried meeting is the inability to agree upon the form of a memorial to Congress. The memorial drafted by M. M. Estee does not suit Mayor Sutro because it does not urge the foreclosure of the mortgage held by the Government.

The London News prints a dispatch from Vienna which asserts that news has been received there from Constantinople and Sebastopol which agrees that Russia has fleets lying at Odessa and Sebastopol, and that the army of the Caucasus is being concentrated about the Armenian frontier, in readiness to move in the spring to realize the plans of Peter the Great for the partition of Turkey between the Powers.

A negro named Alexander Jones boarded a passenger train at Keystone, West Virginia. He was under the influence of liquor and very quarrelsome. An attempt was made to put him off the train, at which he became angry, and drew two revolvers, which he fired promiscuously. He shot and killed Postmaster W. H. Strother, shot Conductor McCullough in the side, and fatally wounded Peter Rice, colored. Jones was put in the Elkhorn jail to await a train to take him to Huntington. The train arrived at 2 A. M. and Jones was taken aboard. At Hamphill the train was flagged and a mob dragged Jones to a tree, where he was suspended and his body riddled with bullets.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

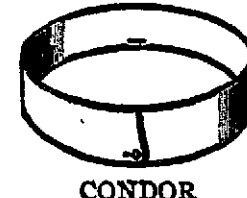

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
